IPS FIND GOOD FISHING AROUND U.S. NAVAL BASE

Pearl Harbor a Myth as Great Fort.

ST. ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Honolulu, May 5.—America's great Pacific naval base in the Hawaiian Islands is a myth. The naval establishment at our farthest fortified outpost, which would be indispensable to a successful defense in the Pacific, does not exist.

Congressmen and newspaper correspondents today visiting Pearl harbor, two miles from Honolulu, under the guidance of Rear Admiral McDonald, commander of this naval district, found only the rudimentary beginning of a naval base, with its development going forward and its facilities functioning under the watchful eye of the admiral.

Under the organic act of the territory of Hawaii the riparian property owners surrounding Pearl harbor and the sea approach are secure in their enjoyment of private fishing rights. The Japanese have formed American corporations, to which the riparian owners have leased fishing rights in this American naval holy of holies, and scores of Japanese fast motor boats, ostensibly engaged in fishing, daily threaten their way among the American vessels anchored here, and penetrate to the farthest reaches of the great harbor, where mines, fortifications, and ships and other ammunition are stored and the supply and repair facilities are located.

Now Fight One Restriction.

The only very serious, so far as we can see, to the Japanese in the naval base is the navy department's policy of arbitrarily forbidding them to navigate their boats through the channel between the navy yard and Ford Island air base. The Japanese immediately started a suit against the government over this restriction and the question of the navy department's authority is pending in a local court.

The Hawaiian legislature is empowered by the territorial organic act to extinguish the private fishing rights to condemnation, but so far has resisted every attempt made to give the government complete control of the waters of Pearl harbor. The influence of the Japanese population here is accounted an important factor in this attitude of the Hawaiian legislature.

Fear Trade's Animosity.

The failure of Washington so far to be as aggressive to bar the Japanese from Pearl Harbor is widely attributed to fear of engendering animosity between the Japanese government, despite the fact that Japan has alienated the purists of the naval base on numerous occasions.

U.S. ASKS TEETH IN LEAGUE PACT ON ARMS TRADE

Burton Also Urges Poison Gas Curb.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1925, by The Chicago Tribune.)

GENEVA, May 5.—The United States at the opening of the debate of the arms traffic control conference under the auspices of the League of Nations today revealed the reason why it sent an imposing delegation, the most important and strongest of any of the forty-four powers represented.

The initial speech by Congressman Theodore Burton showed that America intends to attempt to force through a treaty for adequate control of commerce in munitions, but at the same time he warned the assembly that "the trade cannot be eliminated until general disarmament is attained." This was a boost for President Coolidge's project to hold a new disarmament conference, which because of the reluctance of certain European powers has been temporarily postponed.

Wards War Trade Suppressed.

"The people of the United States earnestly desire to give substantial evidence of their sincere interest in aiding in any constructive effort directed toward the maintenance of peace," he said. "It is hoped that such efforts will be prompted by the proper control of the international trade in arms through the suppression of illicit trade in war material and by securing the fullest and most accurate publicity as to the extent and character of this trade. It is with this intention and with this spirit that the American delegation will take part in the discussions of the conference in the hope of contributing towards attaining concrete results."

"As an evidence of our sincere desire to contribute to the inauguration of an era of continuing peace and aid in preventing the horrors of war in the government of the United States in 1921 took steps to convene the Washington conference, the results of which are known to the world. In addition to the definite achievements of this conference it is believed that the spirit which actuated the delegates at that meeting was a striking indication of the intent of the powers participating to continue the work initiated there."

Munitions Loans Discouraged.

"As regards the specific object of the present conference, namely, the control of the traffic in arms, our government has in recent years followed the policy of counselling its nations against engaging in such trade with the troubled areas of the world where military arms might be particularly used for purposes to disturb the peace. Further, under the authority of existing legislation, our Presidents have from time to time imposed absolute or partial restrictions on the exportation of arms from the United States to certain areas where such measures appear to be particularly necessary. In addition, the location of foreign loans in the United States for the purpose of purchasing armaments has been consistently and, it is believed, successfully discouraged."

In the forthcoming discussions of the draft convention which has been placed before the conference as a basis for its deliberations we shall offer certain constructive suggestions and modifications which it is felt might appropriately be embodied in the proposed convention and which might assist in achieving the objects of the conference.

One of the most important of these suggestions, which I shall set out in detail on a more appropriate occasion, concerns additional measures to deal with the traffic in poison gas.

With the hope of reducing the barbarity of modern warfare.

Police Called Sunday Night.

The police were again called to the home Sunday night. This time they found Mrs. Wild lying on the floor unconscious from her injuries. No one else was in the house at the time. Shortly afterward Wild appeared apparently intoxicated. It was then he told his rambling story of the "giant."

They quieted the couple and left.

Moving Sun Fractured.

Wild was locked up and his wife was taken to the hospital, where it was found she had been kicked in the abdomen, had a severe laceration on one eye, and had received a fractured skull. The skull fracture and internal injuries were the cause of her death.

Investigation by the police revealed that the Wilds had frequently had quarrels during drinking bouts at their home. Sunday night Wild was inebriated and became extremely violent, shouting and cursing at his wife.

Further, under the authority of existing legislation, our Presidents have from time to time imposed absolute or partial restrictions on the exportation of arms from the United States to certain areas where such measures appear to be particularly necessary. In addition, the location of foreign loans in the United States for the purpose of purchasing armaments has been consistently and, it is believed, successfully discouraged.

Carl Baldwin, His Wife and Three Children Killed in Bomb Blast in Pittsburgh.

That Mrs. Emma Nelson McClellan was murdered sixteen years ago by means of mercurial poisoning:

That William D. Shepherd, son, was murdered last December by the use of typhoid germs;

That William D. Shepherd administered the mercury to the mother, the typhoid germs to the son;

That Julie M. Shepherd had guilty knowledge of both crimes;

That they were unable to fix the cause of the death of Dr. Oscar G. Olson, brother of Chief Justice Harry Olson.

Witness Testifies.

The jury by its verdict took official cognizance of Judge Olson's charge that a sixteen year conspiracy had existed which culminated in William McClellan's death after he had made a will leaving his estate of $200,000 entirely to Shepherd.

The jury accepted, apparently, Judge Olson's characterization of Mrs. Shepherd as Lady Macbeth. It accepted his description of Shepherd, seemingly, as a "weak minded masochist" and a "weak individual unit to serve a living for himself."

They concluded in the indictment already voted against Shepherd and C. C. Fairman for the William McClellan death. The finding in the Mrs. McClellan death caused a new trial to be issued against Shepherd, and as Mrs. Shepherd had not been previous named, two militia were summoned directing the sheriff to locate her in the county jail where she was to be now imprisoned.

Mrs. Shepherd was held.

Judge Oscar Wolf signed the militia and Chief Deputy Coroner Charles Ferguson set forth to arrest Mrs. Shepherd, accompanied by Police man Walter Williams.

At the Sheriff's home they were

Hiding Over Night, McClintock's Wife Denounces Olson

Mrs. Julia Shepherd was still in hiding at an early hour this morning, studying the attempts of deputies to arrest her on the order of Coroner Wolf. She was accompanied in her flight by Attorney Robert H. Stoll, a friend of the Shepherds for many years.

Deputies watched the McClintock home in Kenilworth until a late hour but without result. The formal order for Mrs. Shepherd's arrest, following the verdict of the inquest that she was an accessory to the murders of Emma Nelson McClellan and Billy McClellan, directs that she be held in custody until released by due process of law. Mrs. Shepherd declared she would surrender to the sheriff in order to take advantage of every opportunity to preserve her freedom.

Mrs. Shepherd Angry.

Mrs. Shepherd, who was pictured by Judge Olson as another Lady Macbeth, had a few angry remarks to make in the afternoon when it became apparent that she would be sought by the coroner's officials with a warrant for her arrest.

"I hope there will be a fitting punishment for the floundering of Judge Olson," she said, with a despairing gesture. She accompanied this by jerking off the mourning veil she has worn since the death of Billy McClellan. And she exclaimed with violent emphasis: "That filthy beast."

She continued speaking in a shrill tone. "Judge Olson has a lust for human agony," she said. "He is happy at the results of his plotting. It should have been enough for him that my boy is dead and my husband is behind the bars. I am going into hiding for the night because I don't deserve a cell in the county jail. I am not afraid of the law. There is no law that can punish a woman for spending four years of her life in caring for a boy I loved."

COUNCIL PLANS BIG IMPROVEMENT ERA IN CHICAGO

10 Major Projects to Be Started Before Fall.

A new era of public improvements for Chicago, Council committee yesterday indicated that before fall two major projects—the straightening of the river between Harrison and 16th streets, with the opening of four new arteries from the loop on the south side, and the proposed new Calumet industrial harbor—will be well under way.

The construction of five new bridges, at a total cost of $4,500,000—two of them important loops links at Adams street and La Salle street—are to be undertaken within a few weeks. Meanwhile, unexpected progress is being made with the widening and double decking of South Water street, a $25,000 improvement, which, according to President John J. Sloan of the local movement board, should be completed by the summer of 1926.

Program of Bridge Building.

The bridge building program includes the building of a $1,000,000 structure over the Calumet river at 10th street and spans the old Illinois and Michigan canal at Calumet and Cicero avenues. Plans for the $2,500,000 La Salle street are in course of preparation and work on the substructure will be begun as soon as wreckers engaged in the South Water street project have cleared the site of the old bridge.

The council local industries, streets and alleys committee yesterday decided to name a subcommittee to cooperate with a similar group from the railways and terminal committee in consideration of plans for the straightening of the river and the opening of new streets in the south side terminal district.

Time Limit Put on Railroads.

The fourteen railroads now housed in the Dearborn, La Salle, and Grand Central stations have been given until July 1 to agree upon details of their proposed $200,000,000 consolidated terminal and the allocation of property when the river bed is straightened, and to take a stand upon the proposal that they bear the cost of the river straightening and street opening.

The aldermanic joint subcommittee, working with Commissioner Sprague, is expected to have prepared plans for the river straightening and street opening by special assessment against the railroads. The work, which may be undertaken by the city at once if the railroads are still disagreed.

The ordinance providing for the dredging of a deep channel in Lake Calumet by the Nickel Plate railroad in return for belt line and terminal yard acreage concessions will be resubmitted to the council today.

Substructure Contracts Held Up.

Commissioner Sprague's absence from the city prevented the council finance committee from approving the awarding of contracts for the erection of the substructure of the proposed 16th street bridge yesterday. Col. Sprague, in a communication to the committee, asked an opportunity to explain his recommendation that the contracts be awarded to the Fossenmeyer & Connell Dredge and Dock company instead of the lowest bidder, the Central Dredging company, and accordingly action was deferred until next week.

Dr. F. L. B. Jenney, medical director of the Federal Life Insurance company, a member of the club, Saturday afternoon held thirteen hearts in a bridge game. He won his bid. It was a seven.

Fernekes, The Midget Bandit, Talks of His Career of Crime Like a Babbitt

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK

Out on the street with a big black gun, Henry J. Fernekes was a regular Gerald Chapman for murders and stickups.

Down in a cell at the Fillmore street police station yesterday afternoon, with the doughty, forthright Chief of Detectives W. H. Schoemaker talking to him, this 28 year old midget bandit was a regular Babbitt for morals and philosophies.

"No, I'd never stoop to a stickup," he is saying. "Back in his adolescent days, following his three years at St. Viator's college in Kanakakee and his half year at Lake View High school, he did pull a few stickups. Robbed cashiers at elevated stations. But that was a youthful indiscretion, to be outlived if possible."

Fernekes' grammar is as good as his aim. His philosophy is as convincing as his record of four murder and some juvenile stickups. Just about the worst thing that has been described across a police blotter in many a day.

That's why this Babbitt of bandits in his calm, conversational series of tips on the business of crime, is worth listening to as he breaks silence and talks to the only man in Chicago who can get him to talk, Chief Schoemaker.

That's why, too, that "Shoes" militant, wide-visioned counter philosophy.

"Be sure of your man, then get him before he gets you," is worth listening to. Especially worth while a cross section of the bandit's confidences shows the public a little of the skilled competition which the fellow who works for his money is up against nowadays.

Plans Every Move.

Henry J. Fernekes thinks out his stuff. Then he doesn't forget to keep on thinking when he does his stuff. He even has a defense reaction all built up, to carry through seriously, and, presumably, with conviction all over the country, looking for him.

So the only reason that impelled Mr. Fernekes to do any talking just now is the mass of evidence which Chief Schoemaker and his men heaped upon all sides of him. Evidence that starts back on the evening of Sept. 2, 1914, when the eighteen year old boy held up an elevated road cashier at Speridian road, and got one cut link, and ended with two murders in Pearl River, New York, the robbery of the Argos bank in 1914, and the shooting of a policeman in Switzerland, official of the Powhatan Building and Loan association.

Wanted in New York.

It is for this last-named murder that Fernekes is now awaiting trial in Chicago. Acting Gov. Raymond Lowman of New York yesterday signed Fernekes' requisition papers, following his indictment yesterday for the murder of the two bank officials at Pearl River in 1921. It is understood, however, that Chicago officials will make an effort to have their prisoner stand his trial here.

But to go back to Fernekes and his narrative.

"I never stoop to a stickup," he is saying. "Back in his adolescent days, following his three years at St. Viator's college in Kanakakee and his half year at Lake View High school, he did pull a few stickups. Robbed cashiers at elevated stations. But that was a youthful indiscretion, to be outlived if possible."

But that's all pure fiction.

The phrase is his, "about me reading up on minute details of crime. It's just action, too, that story that I wanted to be a Jesse James. Why, nobody should be a criminal. Nobody should i can't tell why I got into the game, I guess it's my check."

But a bank, or a syndicate, now, that's entirely different. They're insured. It's just a profit and loss business deal with it. It requires finesse [the phrase is his] to outsmart such a corporation. And it seems legitimate, at least fairly so, it seems to me."

Outsmarting the Argos bank netted Fernekes and his four companions $105,000, which split into something like $21,000 a piece as he recalls it. Which brings the bandit to a consideration of syndicated crime.

"It's really much easier and safer to work alone," the man in the cell reflects, and with authority.

"As soon as you pool your plans you can go in for bigger deals, but you split the profits."

Just like robbing a bit. "It's just like most business." One fellow has got something the other fellow hasn't. Together they make a team. Enhance that idea and you get what people call the "gang."

Making the Getaway.

Then there's the getaway strategy.

It was on the 23rd of December, 1921, that Fernekes, operating an efficient electrical shop at Westwood, N. J., under the name of Henry J. Darce,

The decision to raise prices was reached at a meeting of the association's central council held at 429 South State street last night. According to Herman Linnemann, chairman, prices for all other barbershops remain the same except for the haircuts, which are lowered. The new prices will be 40 cents; it used to be 60 cents.

"The raise in prices has been made necessary because of the new scale of wages for journeymen barbers," Mr. Linnemann explained. "Whereas these men used to receive $26 salary and 60 per cent on what they took in over $28, they now receive $30 salary and 60 per cent on business over $42."

It was the second such accident to Bledsoe. On the eve of sailing for France as a captain of marines he was shot through the chest while adjusting his pistol. The wound had never entirely healed and some time ago he was forced to go to Arizona to renew his health.

CORONER TAKES SPEED BILL TO STATE ASSEMBLY

As another child was killed by an automobile yesterday, becoming the 220th motor victim since Jan. 1, Coroner Oscar Wolf left for Springfield to lead the forces massing behind his bill aimed at incompetent motorists.

Before the coroner left he was informed that a total of four of the city's leading associations—the City Club of Chicago, the Illinois Automobile club, the North Shore Motor club, and the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs—had endorsed his bill with several minor amendments.

To Take Bill to Senate. When the amendments were laid before Coroner Wolf by Hugo Meyer, manager of the Illinois Automobile club, the coroner accepted them all with enthusiasm, and this afternoon he will carry the bill before the state senate committee, and, citing the endorsements, ask its immediate passage.

"I am fully in agreement with the suggested amendments," Coroner Wolf said. "None of them in the slightest degree taken any of the teeth from the bill. I shall submit the amendments, recommending their adoption to the senate committee tomorrow."

CUTTEN DENIES HE'S CORNERING THE RYE MARKET

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

"There is no corner in corn and rye," says Arthur W. Cutten, one of the largest grain dealers in the Chicago market. "I am simply doing a merchandising business in grain. I am not entering into any controversy with other members of the grain trade. The Board of Trade knows what I am doing."

This statement was made yesterday in reply to a charge printed yesterday morning in which Emanuel F. Rosenbaum of the Grain Marketing company was quoted as saying that there was congestion and evidence of a corner in the local grain market.

Mr. Cutten, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, is said to be opposed to corners. He denied that his house, Nye, Jenks & Company, who paid for upwards of $2,000,000 bushels of cash corn taken in May delivery the last few days, intended to corner the market.

Mr. Cutten of the Grain Marketing company announced at the close that they had 65,000 bushels of rye to be moved to Chicago from Duluth to cover their sales for May delivery. There were also small lots of rye bought in Minneapolis to come to Chicago before the directions of the Chicago Board of Trade. They will hold a special meeting this afternoon, and those who have any evidence that the corn and rye markets are being cornered, an opportunity to present charges. It is understood that Mr. E. Rosenbaum, who makes the charges, is now in New York.

May Make Investigation.

Dr. J. W. T. Duvel, in charge of the grain futures administration, was not in Chicago yesterday, but is expected here today. He receives reports of Board of Trade transactions every day and is in a position to tell whether there is any manipulation. He watches reports closely and may make an investigation of the charges that there is congestion in the May delivery of corn and rye.

Frank L. Carey, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, is said to be opposed to corners. He denied that his house, Nye, Jenks & Company, who paid for upwards of $2,000,000 bushels of cash corn taken in May delivery the last few days, intended to corner the market.

Mr. Cutten of the Grain Marketing company announced at the close that they had 65,000 bushels of rye to be moved to Chicago from Duluth to cover their sales for May delivery. There were also small lots of rye bought in Minneapolis to come to Chicago, the latter market having larger sales than any other during the year, which had 6,745,000 bushels on Saturday night or a total supply from the country of 12,124,000 bushels. Rye is going out of the country at a good rate, but is mostly on purchases made some time ago.

May Price Decline.

The rye market yesterday was not a big affair. The May delivery sold at $1.30 1/4 and $1.33, with the close at the inside, a loss of 3/4c for the day. The trade in rye futures in Chicago runs from $2,000,000 to $2,000,000 bu per day. In corn it ranges $2,000,000 bushels daily, taking the sales side. May corn was strengthened by covering by short sales, with offerings light, and it ranged between $1.06 1/4 and $1.08 1/4, with the close at $1.07 1/4 @ $1.08 1/4, a gain of 2 cents.

Peculiar conditions have developed in wheat within the last few days. May wheat is said to be in good hands. The leading cash interest is credited with being the largest holder of each class, for which an export demand has developed, with sales of 140,000 bushels at Chicago yesterday. This quantity is insignificant, but there has been an absence of foreign demand for so long that even a slight change makes the trade feel good.

The grain trade has a report that when Arthur W. Cutten sold 7,000,000 bushels of cash rye he had at Duluth, which was shipped out of Chicago in January, that he took the May in exchange for the cash grain in his trade with no forward exposure. The latter have been taking back their rye for some time past and were good buyers the last two days.

MAY

Welte-Mignon* Reproducing Records

For KIMBALL Reproducing Pianos And All Welte-Mignon* Actions

NEW pianists are constantly being added to recordings N for Welte Mignon (Licenses). April brought the first five records of George Liebling, renowned in Europe and America. The May list adds FOUR new pianists. MAGDELEINE BRARD, a young French woman who studied under Faure and Saint-Saens, is considered the best interpreter of the modern French school. Carol Robinson, a protégée and assistant of Fannie Bloomfield Zeisler, contributes her first number. Edward Rothlin presents a great hymn, and Marta Milinowski, of Lake Forest, contributes a delightful Moszkowski number.

N. U.'S M'KINLOCK
CAMPUS PROJECT TO START FRIDAY

Ground to Be Broken with Silver Spades.

(Picture on back page.)
Realization of Northwestern university's dream of years of a downtown center will draw nearer on Friday, when ground will be broken at Chicago Avenue and Lake Shore drive for the McKinlock Memorial campus. The university has a nine acre site there. Several thousand university students and many prominent university, military, and civic leaders are expected to attend. Donors of various gifts that make the campus possible will be present.

Donors to Use Silver Spades.

Each donor will use a silver spade, engraved and a present from the university, to turn the ground for the first cut which he or she is responsible. The donor and the amount of their donations are:

Mr. Montgomery Ward, donor of the Ward Medical-Dental center, $400,000.

Mrs. Levy Mayer, Levy Mayer, hall of law, $200,000.

Mr. George R. Thorne, Thorne Auditorium, $250,000.

Elbert H. Gary, Gary Library, $200,000.

William A. Weiboldt, representing the Weiboldt foundation, donor of $200,000 for completion of the school of commerce building.

George A. McKinlock, whose gift five years ago made possible the campus site and for whose son, Alexander, killed during the war, the campus was named.

Mayor Dever to Speak.

After Mr. McKinlock has turned the sod for the campus site Mayor Dever will accept the entire campus in the name of the citizens of Chicago. Robert W. Campbell, president of the board of trustees, and President Walter Dill Scott also will speak.

The new memorial campus site was purchased five years ago at a cost of $1,000,000, but already is worth four times as much. The buildings now proposed will cost around $7,000,000. In ten years, experts estimate, with more buildings to come, the campus will be worth around $25,000,000.

Dawes Made Honorary Rotarian at Evanston

Vice President Charles G. Dawes became an honorary member of the Evanston Rotary club at a banquet held in his honor by the organization at the North Shore hotel, Evanston, last night. Large delegations of Rotarians from Chicago and the north shore suburbs attended the affair.

TWO FAMILIES TO CLAIM BODY OF DUNES VICTIM

I Says 'Mrs. Desidero';
'Mrs. Berg,' Other.

Two sets of relatives are expected to enter claims today for possession of the body of the dunes murder victim when Coroner A. O. Dobbins of Porter county opens an inquest at Chesterton, Ind.

This situation is likely to follow identification of the victim by members of both the Genaro and Hosmer families.

The Genaro family of Gary, including a father and mother, insist the dead woman was their daughter, Mrs. Josephine Desidero.

The Hosmer family of Michigan City, including a mother and a brother, insist she was Mrs. Mary Berg.

Gary police and Sheriff William Forney have failed to locate either Mrs. Desidero or Mrs. Berg.

"Nobody has been able to show me absolute proof of identity and I don't want to make a mistake," Coroner Dobbins said last night.

The Genaro family claimed the body yesterday for burial, but Coroner Dobbins said the outcome of the inquest must be awaited.

The Genaros had prepared for funeral services to be followed by burial at Oakhill Cemetery, friends and relatives, and assembled at the Genaro home.

That family says the victim's teeth and several of the personal articles found at the death scene indicate she was Mrs. Desidero. The Gary police are inclined to agree.

The mother and brother of Mary Berg, mysteriously missing since last January, are equally positive that the teeth, hair, and eyes of the dunes victim indicate she was Mary Berg. Sheriff Forney is inclined to uphold their claim.

The body was found a week ago last Sunday.

No progress was made yesterday in unravelling the circumstances surrounding the tragedy.

Introducing Today Many New Features in the May Sales

Smart Women Wear Motor And Steamer Coats Like These

THE Coats of stunning imported woolens pictured above are typical of the large selection of Coats especially suited to the requirements of travelers. Many, with and without fur, are very moderate in price.

Decidedly swagger is the imported homespun with its large tan and brown plaid, and it is ideally light in weight, sufficiently warm and easy to slip into. The collar is of kid fox, the scarf and lining are of gay print. $165. The other in a soft biscuit shade with brown has an interesting one-side panel effect. $145.

Women's Coat, Sixth Floor, North, State.

Matrons' and Dress Hats Use Ribbon and Flowers

THE American and English Rooms advance toward summer with their usual particular attention to the needs of the more mature woman, and to the requirements for tailored or dress wear. The two pictured here stress distinctive types—the coco hair braid with a sash banding of contrasting ribbon for the matron; the organdie covered hair braid in pastel green with small white flowers for dress. $10 to $25.

Hats for Bridesmaids

The American Room, too, is prepared to outfit bridesmaids in the lovely flowerlike models that belong to spring and summer weddings.

American and English Room, Fifth Floor, North, State.

Real Point Milan Lace Is Specially Priced

EDGINGS and insertions of real, hand-made Point Milan Lace are offered at prices very slightly above those of the machine made imitation. Rarely is such a collection of dainty and useful real lace so priced, and the selling is a particularly timely one when plans are under way for summer dresses and lingerie, as well as house linens. Reasonably priced at $1.75, $2.45, $2.95 and upward.

Lace, First Floor, South, State.

A Trim New Field Side Gore

In White Kid, $16.50

THIS is designed to accommodate many varied types of spring and summer costumes. In white kid with cutout over instep, 1½ Spanish heel, $16.50. Same model in black satin, $15.

Smart Shoes for "Stout Feet"

An effective choice of these Shoes, built to fit the woman with the stout foot. Sizes 4 to 11, AAAA to EEE.

Shoe, Fourth Floor, South, State.

Some of the Many Excellent May Values In Corsettes, Girdles and Brassieres

Ceintures Complete

The Ceinture, left, brassiere and girdle in one unbroken line, of silk brocade with silk handloomed elastic is $18.50. A 16-inch Step-in Ceinture of handloomed elastic, reinforced to fasten back, $11.50. Center.

For the Tall Woman

A 16-inch brocaded Girdle with four sections of handloomed elastic, elastic band at waistline, $15; in silk brocade, $8.50. With it, a lace Brassiere, net-lined, reinforced with pink satin, $3.75. Second.

For the Average

Peach colored silk brocaded with wide sections of imported handloomed elastic at sides, $9. With it, a long line silk triicot Brassiere combined with silk brocade, boned to flatten diaphragm, $3.50. Fourth.

Corsets, Fifth Floor, South, Wabash

For the Slender

An excellent model is the lightly boned Corsette pictured, fashioned of satin triicot, $6. It is sketched at the right. Included in the May Selling are Brassieres of silk brocade, satin triicot and lace, 50c to $4.50.

Tailored and Ensemble Suits Moderately Priced at $55

ONE may wear a suit for almost every occasion of the spring and summer day and be exceedingly well dressed, provided the material is varied according to the formality of its use. The two suits sketched above illustrate the range of interesting models in two-pieces and ensemble Suits which we are showing.

Right, silk ensemble, black satin coat, smart foulard crepe dress with jabot. In rose or green combined with black, $55. Left, short box coat and wrap-around skirt of imported tweed, excellently tailored; brown and tan mixture; priced, $55.

Women's Suit, Sixth Floor, South, State.

At $5, Silk Lingerie and Handmade Gowns

Some Outstanding May Specials

EVERY spring and summer Undergarment requirement is met in this splendid assortment at $5, purchased as an especial feature of the annual May Selling. In beauty and variety of design, in quality of material and workmanship, they are indeed exceptional.

Silk Gowns

Of heavy crepe de chine with val lace and medallions or filet in peach, orchid or pink. Left.

Handmade Gowns

Philippine Nightgowns of fine muslin, elaborately trimmed with hand-embroidery and hemstitching. Also a georgette model with tucks, lace, net footing. Right.

Costume Slips

Tailored Slips of excellent medium silk, in flesh or white, hemstitched. Held at the right.

Envelope Chemises

A long waisted design of crepe de chine with tucks and double hemstitching. Also a georgette model with tucks, lace, net footing. Right.

Negligees of Softest Fabrics Charm Many Leisure Moments

WHETHER you are seeking a negligee of filmy chiffon, or more practical little throw-ons, you will find an unusually tempting selection here. Three new styles, of many just received, are sketched:

Negligee, of chiffon, over crepe corsette, with wide margot lace yoke and top of sleeve. Many colors, $22.50. First.

Kimono, in contrasting colors fagoted together, $17.50.

Coat, of French voile, with lace, tulip shades, $6.50. Held.

Umbrella—French Umbrellas in short size, pearl handled, black and white, $18.

Scarf—in filmy georgette for the coming summer, shaded, in any solid color or in black, or white, $5.85.

Elmer Taps Air Cargo; Finds It Middlin' Fair

One Concert Thrills Him to Ecstasy.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

An uneven evening; good in spots here and everywhere; one international broadcast of ingratiating love-songs.

However instructive and commendable the so-called talk may be, and as thoroughly as the writer appreciates the really interesting ones, he will admit that they are generally tuned out with only passing attention. The chances are this quite generally holds good with a large majority of the radio audience.

However, the dial stopped firmly on KXW, where 7:20 a.m. with a remarkable firm voice was heard discussing the aspects of agricultural problems of the present and the future. The speaker was Tinley F. Mount, on the Farm Bureau Federation program.

Now those who were fortunate enough to hear the Brunswick broadcast through WJZ-KXW, will be disappointed. I am sure, if something choicerly appreciative is not said on this occasion. I personally know how I felt about those years ago after hearing a great program in the concert hall or at the opera.

Would that it were possible for these words to rebroadcast to the reader the pure, mellow tones, the melting overtones, with all their heart appeal just as we heard them from Elizabeth Lennox, contralto. So easily did she sing, so seemingly natural and fundamentally simple, yet how she must have touched every listener! So lovely it was impossible to keep from falling in love with her—voice.

Nearly as much may be said for Theo Marie, violinist. The maleness that permeates the material and aesthetic worth of a violin, old or new, was vocally illustrated by these two voices. And since these two voices were so similar in timbre, it would have been immensely interesting to have heard them in duet.

Since a representative selection by each artist might be appreciated, we will venture "Cradle Song" [MacFadyen] for Miss Lennox and "That Tumble Down Shack" in Athlone [Carlo-Sanders] for Mr. Marie.

When it is added that the Ethnucro played several chamber music pieces, some further idea of the quality of this presentation will be obtained.

Probably the most generally interesting Chicago program was by the Suburban band of La Grange, KXW, 9 to 10. There were some concert solo and trick effects performed here that were quite novel and effective.

There was quite an interesting program by juveniles from W-G-N at 4:30. Among the members of Lodge No. 4 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at WMAQ, 9:15, at which some of the familiar Negro spirituals were presented in a somewhat original manner.

PROF. JASTROW TO SPEAK HERE. Prof. Jastrow, president of the University of Wisconsin will discuss "The Plain Psychology of the Man in the Street" at the meeting of the Executives' club at the Hotel Sherman on Friday.

(Wednesday, May 6.)

RADIO PROGRAMS FOR TODAY (Daylight saving time throughout.)

An entertaining diversion will be presented this evening at 8:35 by W-G-N, The Chicago TRAINS station on the Drake hotel. Sophia Swanstrom Young is to read Tennyson's "Emm Ardern" to the musical setting by Richard Strauss.

W. Ward Wright will be the piano accompanist. Both are members of the Ethnucro, Gunn school of the faculty of music.

And then, between 10:30 and 11:30, there will be a piping hot bill by George Little and Larry Shay, Jack Heath and Ed Downs, Jack Chapman's Drake hotel orchestra, and the Guariniello.

PAUL ASH.

The brother, the accordion racer. The nightly Board of Trade summary is now broadcast at 6 o'clock, followed by the closing stock quo-

WOMAN WHO DIED IN HOTEL ROOM LOCAL RESIDENT

Katherine King of Marietta, Ga., who was found dead on Monday in her room at the Hotel La Salle, proved yesterday to be Mrs. George F. Cady, 1262

Ardmore Avenue, the wife of a wire salesman and the mother of a daughter 11 years old. Cady identified the body of his wife at the Western Undertaking establishment. He testified at an inquest.

"She was troubled by insomnia," Cady said of his wife, "and she was taking a sleep producing drug. I think she took an overdose."

GARY PICTURES BRIGHT FUTURE FOR INDUSTRY

Birmingham, Ala., May 5.—[A. P.]—American business can compete with that of any nation, in the opinion of Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation, expressed today in a conference with the press.

"As to business generally, I am hopeful of the future," he declared.

"I believe in this country. I think the people generally are able to cope with the finest talent and most prominent ability of any and all other nations. Our people offer the friend and good will to every nation. At the same time we are determined to keep ourselves strong and healthy, morally and physically, and to protect constantly and advance the best interests of our own people."

The steel corporation would make improvements of its properties "without saying," said Mr. Gary, "so long as large and increasing markets continue to grow."

MAN WHO TOOK BRANTING PLACE IN SWEDEN DIES

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 5.—[A. P.]—Former Finance Minister, F. V. Thorsson, died today. He was recently elected to succeed the late Premier Hjalmar Branting as head of the Social Democratic party.

Mr. Thorsson has been ill since last fall, and about a week ago an operation for cancer was performed. He was 60 years old and had long been prominent in the Labor party and political circles.

Mr. Thorsson's early years were spent in modest circumstances, while he learned the trade of his father, that of a shoemaker. By hard study he became a leading financier, and gained the confidence of the rising Swedish Social Democratic party, so that he came to be a political leader, ranking second only to Hjalmar Branting. He was a member of each of three cabinets formed by the latter.

He was on his way to Springfield from Buffalo at the time of his death.

On Monday night he became ill and the hotel physician, Dr. L. F. McCallum, attended him. A maid found him dead. His body was sent to Springfield in the afternoon.

Mr. Bunn is survived by two brothers, Jacob Bunn, president of the Marine bank of Springfield, and Henry Bunn of Washington, D. C., and a sister, Miss Alice Bunn, Springfield.

William S. Bunn of Springfield, Ill., and Buffalo, N. Y., a son of Jacob Bunn, pioneer Illinois banker, was found dead yesterday morning in his room in the Hotel La Salle. Heart disease was the cause of death. He was a bachelor, 73 years old.

The Bunn family home is in Springfield, where one of the largest parks is Bunn park, but for the last several years Mr. Bunn has resided in Buffalo. Since his retirement from the banking business he had traveled extensively.

The Bunn family home is in Springfield, where one of the largest parks is Bunn park, but for the last several years Mr. Bunn has resided in Buffalo. Since his retirement from the banking business he had traveled extensively.

He was on his way to Springfield from Buffalo at the time of his death.

On Monday night he became ill and the hotel physician, Dr. L. F. McCallum, attended him. A maid found him dead. His body was sent to Springfield in the afternoon.

Mr. Bunn is survived by two brothers, Jacob Bunn, president of the Marine bank of Springfield, and Henry Bunn of Washington, D. C., and a sister, Miss Alice Bunn, Springfield.

William S. Bunn of Springfield, Ill., and Buffalo, N. Y., a son of Jacob Bunn, pioneer Illinois banker, was found dead yesterday morning in his room in the Hotel La Salle. Heart disease was the cause of death. He was a bachelor, 73 years old.

NO QUARTER FOR RED PLOTTERS, BULGARS' ORDER

Macedonians Avenging
Soviet Murder.

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK.

(Copyright: 1925 by The Chicago Tribune.)

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 4.—(UPI)—A semi-official communiqué issued in Sofia, where communists are on trial in connection with the bomb outrage at the St. Vito cathedral, declares three witnesses—Petroff, Kirloff, and Stearnoff—testified that for many months agents have been distributing propaganda from Moscow.

Zinovjeff Doubles Bombing.

MOSCOW, May 5.—(UPI)—Addressing the communist party conference regarding the problems of the communists, International, Gregory Zinovjeff, secretary of the latter body, again today repudiated a suggestion that the international had any connection with the bomb outrage at Sofia cathedral in which many were killed.

Predicting that the allies would try to play President Elect Hindenburg of Germany against Russia, M. Zinovjeff

CONSTIPATION means DISEASE

These young rascals when they are well are the greatest institutions on earth. But when that insidious lurking monster—constipation—ties up their bowels, then the world is dark. Coated tongue, loss of appetite, wakefulness, bad breath, pimples, weakness, dull mind are only a few indications that you are going to have a mighty sick boy if you do not see that his clogged bowels are opened up at once.

Dr. Caldwell's
SYRUP PEPSIN
The Family Laxative

—relieves constipation. It appeals to the manly little fellow. Father, mother, sister and baby like it, too. And for 30 years it has pointed the way to health along Nature's road for all of them. A pleasant tasting combination of Egyptian senna, pepsin and aromatic 10,000,000 bottles used annually throughout the country prove its effectiveness.

As Easy To Take As Grandma's Jam

One dose is enough to remove the obstruction and clear the distending bowels so well. Never overstrain yourself and resume your prime functions. A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepin should be in every home.

It is sold everywhere—medicine is sold and recommended. Try it at once! If you don't feel better return your money if it fails to do as promised.

Killed by Moscow's Order.

Todor Alexandrov was assassinated on Moscow's orders last September because he would not bolshevize his organization, and now his followers are taking their revenge.

The communist military organization in Bulgaria was built up by several hundred Red army officers who came secretly from Russia last winter. They created 1,000 units of six men each as the backbone of a force of 50,000 untrained communists and extreme agrarians to overthrow the government. These 6,000 armed, desperate, and fanatic communists swear never to surrender themselves.

The Bulgarian troops have been ordered to take them alive in order to make them reveal their organization, but where they are trapped they are fighting desperately and selling their lives dearly. About 100 have been killed, but none has been taken alive.

One Man Kills Nine Soldiers.

One of these desperados, Borumitsif, a member of a small section of the Macedonian organization which fell under the control of Moscow, killed nine soldiers and wounded six in a battle in a woods on the outskirts of Sofia last week. He hid in some underbrush with a branch with green leaves over him, from where he picked off the Bulgarian soldiers until the latter brought up a company and mine throwers and blew him out.

All over Bulgaria these terrorists are killing soldiers, dynamiting bridges, tearing up railway tracks and burning public buildings.

In the outburst of fury that followed the bomb outrage an army of police, militia and reserve officers searched out the most notorious communists in Sofia and probably killed some 100 in cold blood.

Soviet Coup Nipped.

At Varna, the principal Bulgarian port, the communists had created a powerful military organization and

CIVIL WAR NEAR IN CHINA; POWERS MAY INTERVENE

Outsiders to Oppose Feng and Soviet Allies.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1935, by The Chicago Tribune.)

PEKING, May 5.—An early outbreak of an extensive civil war, possibly involving foreign powers, seems imminent, although there are no large troop movements. The commanders of foreign troops stationed in China under the Boxer protocol are conferring at Tientsin on methods necessary to keep the Peking route open, while the commandants of the legation guards are drafting a precautionary defense. Large American business interests are placing war risk insurance.

The main issue is between Chiang Tso-in, the Manchurian war lord who is controlling the seaports, and Feng Yu-hsiang, the Christian general, who holds Peking. Feng is receiving munitions from Russia through Mongolia, which the British legation is informed were convoyed by the Russians almost to Kalgan pass.

The indications are that Feng Yu-hsiang has become allied with the communist faction in Peking, thus getting the aid of the Russians and throwing Japan, Great Britain, and America into the lap of the Peking government, which Chang Tso-in has supported.

The action of Feng in uniting with the Reds probably will result in the setting aside of the arms embargo.

Situation Held Dangerous.

Although foreign complications may possibly be avoided, the legations and other foreigners consider the situation as being delicate.

Gen. Yang has telegraphed Peking that Soviet, encircled Mongolian troops are again attempting to capture Chinese Turkestan and already have penetrated into several districts, impressing Mongol princes into the People's party. They demand that Altai, where Roy Chapman Andrews' expedition is now making explorations, and three other districts be included in outer Mongolia.

Since the Mongolian People's party has strong backing from soviet Russia, which formed it, and also has well-trained armies, Gen. Yang has asked that a strong protest be lodged with Moscow and with the soviet embassy at Peking.

Asks Pressure on Japan.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

TOKIO, May 5.—The manner of settlement of the Manchurian railway question is a test whether the Russo-Japanese relations will proceed smoothly hereafter, or not, Russian Ambassador Kopp told Japanese newspapermen, urging them to put pressure on the government to consider the Russians as well as their own interests with respect to the protest to China filed by M. Karakhan in Peking.

IMPORTERS RUSH TO BEAT TARIFF WALL IN BRITAIN

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, May 5.—British trade is alarmed at the rush for the importation of goods affected by the restoration of the McKenna duties, which becomes effective on July 1. Hundreds of high grade French automobiles are being rushed across the channel, and whole trains and trucks are carrying them daily from Dover and Folkestone. It is also reported that large consignments of cheap cars are coming from the United States. Tons of cheap clocks and watches from France, Switzerland, and Germany are arriving at the customs sheds and the channel ports are congested.

HAS HUSBAND ARRESTED FOR DESERTING HER

An enraged wife, losing steadily in her fight for her husband's affections, last night waited for him at the door of Mrs. Ruth Ingalls, 1520 Belle Plaine avenue, a pretty divorcee and now a telephone operator, whom he had taken for an evening auto ride.

When Julius Jenkins, 5516 Stony Island avenue, and son of a Morgan Park millionaire, courteously stepped from the car and handed out Mrs. Ingalls, his wife stepped out and handed Jenkins a warrant. Two policemen backed her up. Both Jenkins and his companion were charged with disorderly conduct.

The wife told the policemen that her husband tired of her. April 20 he threw a portable typewriter at her. When she saw him with a pretty girl in his car in the loop she accused him of double-dealing and he admitted it. He said he would live with a high class girl and wanted to marry her. Then he left the house and went to live at the Elks' club.

Jenkins is employed as a bond salesman with a La Salle street firm.

Ride on GENUINE LOW AIR PRESSURE

If you can cut down the air pressure in your balloon tires it will add just that much more to their cushioning effect.

Maybe you can't do this safely with your present make of balloon tires.

But you can with the new U.S. Royal low-pressure Balloons—

Because—

These tires have the new U.S. "Low-Pressure Tread".

This tread gives a much greater area of road contact than a round tread.

It distributes the load evenly over the tread surface and reduces the weight on the individual tread blocks. This does away with early, uneven and disfiguring tread wear.

U. S. Royal Balloon gives long service even at lower air pressures than have been recommended in the past.

For in addition to this new Low-Pressure tread they are built of Latex-Treated Web Cord. The only cord construction in which the cords are webbed together with pure rubber latex. This gives maximum strength and maximum flexibility.

Don't compromise on balloon tire pressures any longer.

Ride on genuine low pressure.

It will surprise you to know what a difference it makes.

KLAN BIG ISSUE AS INDIANA CITIES PICK CANDIDATES

Close Vote in Primaries; 55 Arrests in Capital.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 5.—[Special.]

The most bitter primary fight for the Republican nomination for mayor in Indianapolis appeared to be an even race tonight with both the supporters of Ralph Lemcke, representing anti-suffragists, and John L. Duvall, receiving the backing of the Klan, practically on even terms. Two other candidates were falling far behind. Returns were exceptionally slow in coming in.

Lemcke headquarters claimed that their man would receive the nomination by 5,000, while Duvall followers predicted he would win.

Unofficial returns from 50 scattered precincts out of 225 in Indianapolis give Lemcke 5,567 and Duvall 4,451.

Turn to Courts.

Court action halted interference with Duvall workers at the polls after fifty arrests had been made by the Mayor Lemcke controlled police department. Duvall workers distributed a circular statement "date to publication against Lemcke workers who carried litigated streets with circular asking votes for Lemcke. No Lemcke workers were arrested.

Judge Clinton H. Given in Superior court granted a temporary restraining order against police arresting members of the Horse Thief Detective association, working for Duvall. A motion then filed by the Lemcke organization to dissolve the order was overruled by Judge Given.

Despite the injunction, police continued to arrest Duvall workers until they were threatened with contempt of court proceedings, when arrests were stopped.

Charges against the fifty-five horses chief detectives and constables, Duvall workers ranged from carrying concealed weapons and drawing deadly weapons to vagrancy. One woman was charged with vagrancy, but was bailed out.

Klan Leads in Gary.

Gary, Ind., May 5.—[Special.]—With returns in from seventeen of Gary's thirty-one precincts in the Republican mayoralty primary, Floyd Williams, Klan candidate, was leading Mayor W. J. Fulton, his nearest opponent, by a vote of 2,819 to 2,226 and his election was conceded. State Senator C. O. Holmes and Walter Bigelow, other candidates, received only scattering votes.

In the Hammond Republican mayoralty primary, Adrian Pinkham had a plurality of 400 over Daniel C. Brown, who returns from seventeen of the city's thirty precincts. At East Chicago R. P. Hale led the field by four to one in eleven of the city's nineteen precincts reported. At Whiting, where a woman was held on his "Citizens' ticket," Walter M. Schrage had a majority of 1,000 over Frank M. Long in eleven out of twelve of the precincts. Victory for Brown, Hale, and Schrage was conceded by their opponents.

BOARD PROTESTS TRACKS ON LAKE SHORE DRIVEWAY

The Lincoln park board has asked the Illinois commerce commission to order removal of the street car tracks along the eastern edge of the Lake Shore drive from Chicago avenue to Ohio street.

The tracks were laid to serve the segment of Freeway, promoted by the chairman of William Hale Thompson, then mayor. On them the Chicago avenue cars run south to the Municipal player.

The park board argues that the tracks are in the way of the widening of the drive to 80 feet to meet additional demands to be made on it when the new outer drive has been completed, linking the Jackson and the Lincoln park systems.

The approach to the outer link bridge to connect the two great drives at the mouth of the Chicago river will require space now used as terminals of the car lines running to the lake, it is said.

Street car tracks edging the Lake shore drive are detrimental to property values, the commissioners also contend.

WHITE WATER

By ROBERT E. PINKERTON

Rec'd U.S.
Post Office.

SYNOPSIS. Larry Vail, a handsome young woodman, is commissioned by Howard Franklin to build a hunting lodge on Franklin's forest preserve. With the help of two friends, Hugie Rawles and Sid Evans, Larry works all through the winter. In the spring Franklin comes down to inspect the cabin, and finds them satisfactory. He tells Larry he is going to California on business, but Mrs. Franklin and his niece, Marcia Kerr, plan to spend the summer at the camp. Early in June the women arrive. Mrs. Franklin is interested in taking pictures of the deer and asks Larry to accompany her as guide on her photographic expeditions. They both find a great deal of enjoyment in these Woodless hunting excursions. On a day that Mrs. Franklin is unable to leave the house, Larry accompanies Marcia on a fishing trip. On their return Mrs. Franklin is unable to control her anger at Hugie for taking Larry away.

INSTALLMENT XV. THE GRINNING POOL.

It wasn't Sid's jealous outburst or Jane's fiery scorn that kept Larry awake for a long time that night. Nor was it Marcia Kerr, nor even Reilda Franklin's attitude there on the veranda. For the first time in his life he gave serious thought to Larry Vail himself.

He was twenty-eight. For thirteen years he had been earning his own living. Lumber camps and driving camps had been his habitation. Sometimes he had drifted out into the Dakotas for the harvest, then back to the woods for the winter. Once he had shipped out of Superior as a sailor on a lumber schooner. Twice he had tried trapping, only to be forced to seek a job or starve.

Never had his worldly possessions filled more than half his turkey, a simple grain sack. Never, except in his two trapping shacks, had he known what it was to have a home. Never, until he began working for Howard Franklin, had he held any sort of position with executive responsibilities.

It was these things that he considered, the economic status of Larry Vail, a status pertaining not to the past or present, but to the future, for he saw himself going on through the years, haphazard, nomadic, the victim of whim and circumstance, slipping out, wandering on, tasting the cup of life but never drinking it.

Back of it all, back of the dark, silent hours in his bunk, was a woman like Marcia Kerr. Not Marcia herself. Jane's taunts down there at the lake shore had not been revealing. Had anything else directed Larry's thoughts along such channels as would readily have arrived at the same conclusion. He phrased it as Jane had, "Couldn't buy her shoes and stockings," and he knew it was literally true.

But it was not Marcia's shoes and stockings that worried him, or any other woman's. He had simply been brought face to face with the fact that some day, somewhere, he would meet a girl like Marcia and that life would be an empty thing without her.

Marcia served only as an example. He liked her better, after three days of companionship, than any girl he had ever seen, but never once had his thoughts risen above the wall which, he knew, separated them. Larry didn't have Jane's viewpoint. His was the reverse. He knew he could not buy shoes and stockings for Marcia Kerr, but he also knew that, for a girl like her, it would be an eminently desirable thing to do.

Clear as his thinking was along some lines, he was a stranger to self-analysis, and experience did not permit him to work things out in detail. The result of those hours of wakefulness was summed up in his own muttered reflection:

"I just been making a grinning fool of myself. I've had the chances and I've turned 'em down. But now—now, by gosh, I'm going to get out of here—British Columbia, I guess—and I'm going to get a job that's got something more to it than so much a day. I'm going to settle down in one place and have men coming to me for jobs. Franklin started as a river pig and did it. I guess I can."

He took all the blame, he who had faced the world with a grin at fifteen, who had never asked a favor, who in thirteen years of the roughest contact with life had retained a curiously clean mind and an unwarped heart, who through that very purposelessness and buoyant vagabondage had developed a compelling charm.

And he did not suspect that it was the influence of Howard Franklin and of Marcia Kerr, combined into an expression of the whole purpose of existence, that really swayed him. Long ago he had seen the romance in the rise of men from lumber camps to millions and had been untouched. Now, joined with the actuating impulse of all men's struggles, that romance and achievement became a most desirable thing. Some day, somewhere, there would be a girl, and he wanted to be ready.

It rained the next day and he did not see Marcia. He attended to his long neglected laundry work, drying his clothes in the men's camp. He snipped haircuts with Hugie and successfully concluded a campaign to establish friendly relations with Sid. Late in the afternoon Reilda sent for him and announced that she would be ready to go after mugs in the morning.

Larry listened in silence as she talked of plans for a certain picture she wanted. He discovered that he now felt a distaste for mouse photography. The net in the game was gone. It seemed trivial, padding about all day, saying like a boy. He found himself wishing Franklin would come so that he could ask for his time and be on his way westward.

He also caught himself studying the woman for the first time, and recalling what Jane had said. He did not agree with Jane. There was something between Mrs. Franklin and Marcia Kerr that marked them as different from the two girls he had known. Both he had discovered, possessed minds. They were thinkable. The others, were not silly jibes. Accustomed all his life to an existence as the world knew, he was without Jane's class. He did not resent qualities or advantages, that had been denied him.

He saw that Jane may have had some cause for speaking as she had of Reilda Franklin. There had been her inexplicable attitude toward Marcia Kerr since she was unusually so. Yet he was critical, his mind traveled back over all he had seen of her, and, though he could not find a definite reason, he felt a vague distrust.

"When is Mr. Franklin coming?" he broke in once, and then was amazed that he had spoken.

"Why?" she asked after a moment's hesitation and a sharp glance. "He's just wondering. He might have wanted to get up in June but was never hard to stay in California."

"What's there the last I heard?" Reilda said. "He might be on his way now. We won't know anything about it until we see him pulled up."

She started after breaking the next morning. Because Reilda had not been able to get away, they decided, at Larry's suggestion, to investigate a deep shadowy corner or seven miles up the lake, a place that could be reached without Reilda having to leave the canoe.

As never before, Larry felt like a servant. Reilda, half reclining in the bow of the craft, made comfortable by cushions and a blanket. The day was exceptionally hot, on western Ontario they sometimes become. There was no shade. The sun beat down on a mirabilis lake. Perspiration streamed down Larry's face and his paddle strokes remunerated the joy of the quick dip with Marcia. His craft seemed leisurely sluggish.

"Right to it, Larry answered.

He shaded him from beneath the brim of her broad hat. There had been a smile in his reply and she discovered a set expression about his mouth. She noted, too, that he seldom looked at her. His eyes were down upon or on the shore.

"How old are you, Larry?" she asked abruptly.

"How old do you think I am?"

"I don't know," he answered frankly. "I never thought."

"Women don't speak of age when they pass thirty, but it doesn't bother me thirty-one."

Leatrice Joy Is Reason Enough for This One

And a Dozen Beautiful Maids Are Others.

CLOSEUPS

Corrine Griffith will spend a few hours in Chicago tomorrow. She is on her way from the coast to New York, where she is to star in "Classified."

Frances Howard, recently married to Samuel Goldwyn, has procured her release from the Paramount organization.

partner of the store, played ribticklingly by Ernest Torrence.

Let the picture reveal what happens from here on. It makes a good little picture, too probably.

The production is effectively staged. The fashion show, with its red-hot mummies on parade, is, so to speak, a knockout. All roles are acted with pep and intelligence and Leatrice Joy is just darling!

"See you tomorrow!"

If He Truly Loves
You He'll Gladly
Give Bill of Health

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am a young woman of 24 and have been going with a man of 32 for a year. I have an older sister, married three years, who has changed from a robust, happy girl into a semi-invalid. She has a baby's year and a half old, and the baby is not well.

"When I told my sister Ed wanted me to marry him, she said: 'Julia, don't marry him until he has been examined by a physician and can give you a clean bill of health. If I had had some one to advise me before I married, baby and I wouldn't be suffering what we are now.'

"I followed sister's advice, and Ed blew off in a perfect rage; said if I was that kind of person I'd make life hell for a man. Do you think he had a right to get so angry? Would you suspect that from him that he has something to hide? I know before he met me he did a lot of running around with women."

The world has gone a long way since the days when every one was ashamed to admit knowing anything about disease caused by loose, careless, or indiscriminate living. Julia. Newspaper advertisements faint the fact that members of men have either foolishly or unkindly wasted their vitality. It is no secret in medical circles that a large percentage of women patients in hospitals are there because they failed to demand of the man a clean bill of health.

When you marry you have a right in self-protection to know that the man is not going to ruin your health, that he is not going to poison your blood and tear your nervous system to pieces, not for your own sake alone, but for the sake of possible offspring. There is nothing more pitiful than to have a child born with a hereditary taint of mental or physical weakness, to have the child come into the world below par and handicapped from the start.

Health is the foremost requisite for a happy marriage and an enduring one, and everything pertaining to health should be considered frankly before marriage.

It is curious how careful most people are about the materials with which they make a dress, about the lumber that goes into a house, but they will go on perfectly ignorant and indifferent about the most essential thing to happiness in life—the human body.

Treat the subject of marriage with the same thoroughness with which you treat other business relations. You would not trust yourself to a physician in whom you had no confidence. You should demand his services quickly enough. Why should a woman trust herself to a man who may be physically charming and attractive, but who may be paying the penalty for loose living?

If the man loves a girl, he should have no objection to such examination.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

They Crowd Around.

Dear Miss Blake: We are two girls friends both 18. We are good students and have had day meetings. Therefore, we do our home work during the day and have time to go down stairs at night. Whenever we go down there is always a crowd of follows by the stoop. Our parents object to us standing with them because it makes a bad impression on other people. Two respectable young men have asked us to go out with them but we have not given them our answer yet. We never went out and this will be our first time. Please tell us how to avoid this crowd of boys. Since we want to go out with these two young men?

E. R. R.

My parents approve of these boys and of your going out with them. I see no reason why you should not go, girls. As for the crowd of boys who congregate outside, it won't help your reputation any to be seen with them and it will cause much talk among the neighbors. It just isn't the place for girls, so the objection of your parents is quite in order. If they wish to spend an evening with you, let them come to your home.

Pat.

Dear Miss Blake: I am a youth in my teens and care for a girl one year my junior. I know she cares for me and whenever I go out with her we always have a good time. I am going to move out of town and I suppose that will be the end of it. I have the reputation of not being bashful, but when it comes down to bare facts, I am bashful. What I should like to know is, do you think it right for me to invite her out to our new home or should I come to her? Pat.

Pat, I think you had better continue going to see her. When you are settled in your new home, perhaps your mother would invite her to have dinner with you some Sunday, or spend the weekend. Unless the invitation came from your mother, Pat, she would not be able to accept it.

Hence Her Answer.

The other day the big boss was in from New York. I had met him only once before. He is of the grouchy type, with only an occasional laugh or smile.

After coming into the office and saying good morning to everybody, he sat down at the desk in front of mine and started to write. Without turning around he said to me, "Today is Tuesday, isn't it?" I answered, "It is twenty-five minutes after."

I turned to me with a puzzled frown and every one else started snickering. I had understood him to say, "It is ten-thirty, isn't it?" Imagine my embarrassment when he repeated his question.

L. G. H.

Showing the Carrots.

After reading about a well known movie actress eating carrots, I decided I would substitute them for the candy I was continually munching, so the next morning on the way to the train I purchased a bunch, which the clerk simply rolled in a piece of paper, as I was in a hurry. When I got up to leave the train I forgot the package lying in my lap, and it rolled to the door, opening up and showing the carrots in all their glory. It was a cold day, but I was warm enough, and have avoided that particular couch ever since.

Sara Malcolm Klebs to Become Bride of Clergyman May 20

BY NANCY R.

All who know and remember well Dr. Arnold C. Klebs will find it difficult to recognize him as a father-in-law of a Presbyterian clergyman. He has always held tenaciously to the doctrine taught by science of cause and effect—a modern philosophy with which at present the Presbyterian church seems to differ.

Yet on the twentieth of this month the Klebs' daughter, Sara Malcolm Klebs, and Dr. George Stewart of New Haven, Conn., at the hands of two of their ministers. And here Dr. Arnold C. Klebs, apparently thoroughly delighted with the prospect, have come from their lovely estate in Nyack, New York, to be on hand for the great event.

Mr. Klebs is here now, visiting her daughter, Mrs. William Burry Jr., in Lake Forest, while Dr. Klebs, whom all his Chicago friends had hoped to see in this part of the country on this trip, is in Washington, where he can have full and frequent access to the great scientific library there, and also gather together his considerable library. The latter has been in America for Switzerland some half dozen years ago, but it is probable that this visit will be the occasion for it to be presented by its learned and generous owner to some scientific American institute.

Instead of going to China to do missionary work, as was at first reported, Dr. Stewart and his bride are to live in New York when they return from their European travels. They sail on the Leviathan on May 24 for England, where they will visit Dr. Stewart's sister, Mrs. F. David Higham, and Captain Higham. After that they go to Germany and Armenia, where Dr. Stewart, as a member of a commission including John H. Finley, one of the editors of the New York Times; Prof. Stephan Duggan of Columbia university, and Dr. John R. Mott will inspect the work of the near east relief.

Day's News in Society

This month's issue of the Lake Michigan Yachting News, the Chicago Yacht club's publication, announced the impending arrival of the Mystic, the fifty foot yacht bought recently by James O. Heyworth, being brought from the New York Yacht Club to moor in Belmont harbor. Mr. Heyworth will enter his new craft in the Mackinac race.

Two new power boat cruisers have been completed for the use of Chinese in southern Atlantic waters. Joseph C. Cudahy has ordered the Elmer for use at Palm Beach, and the Myrica, constructed for Honore Palmer, is to grace the waters at Sarasota. The Rainbow, Sheldon Clark's boat, is being put in condition for use this year. Wilhelm L. Baum, who is to go abroad in June, plans to look over the foreign yacht markets to discover a big cruiser, to replace the Mervyn, which was burned last year, and which was succeeded by the White Swan, which has been sold.

Mrs. Carter Harrison gave a large luncheon yesterday at the Casino for Mr. Ernest De Witt Burton. Among the guests were Mrs. Arthur Meeker, Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. Watson Blair, Mrs. Thomas W. Hinde, Mrs. William Prescott Hunt, Miss Marie Estee, Mrs. Wilhelm Ludwig Baum, and Mrs. Jacob Baer.

The Opera club will close its season with two gala nights, this evening and Saturday evenings.

Mrs. Chester M. Dawes of the Hotel Ambassador has returned from a sojourn in Santa Barbara, Cal.

Mrs. and Mrs. George McLaughlin of 1390 Ritchie place have moved out to their Lake Forest summer place.

Mrs. James Viles of Lake Forest and her sister, Miss Florence Underwood, returned yesterday from a four months' trip abroad. Miss Underwood, who has leased her Lake Forest place to Marvin B. Pool of 512 Barry avenue for the summer, will reside with Mrs. Viles.

Mrs. Chester M. Dawes of the Hotel Ambassador has returned from a sojourn in Santa Barbara, Cal.

Mrs. and Mrs. Clifford W. Barnes of Lake Forest and their daughter, Miss Lilac Barnes, have returned to Lake Forest after a two months' absence in Pasadena, Cal., where they visited Mrs. Barnes' mother, Mrs. Joseph Barnes.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles King Corant of 327 Fullerton parkway will depart on May 21 for New York and with Mrs. Corant's daughter, Josephine, 18, will remain there until after the Fourth of July. After touring for two months on the continent, Mrs. Corant plans to place her son and daughter in school at Lausanne, after which they will take an apartment in Paris for the winter. Mrs. Corant will give a reception at the Aris club on Thursday, May 25, for the boards of directors of the several clubs which she has served as president, vice president, and honorary president.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Boddy and their daughter, Miss Judith Boddy, have returned from a three months' stay in Florida, and are at the North Shore hotel, Evanston.

Now You Can Mothproof The Cloth Itself!
Use Larvex! Have No More Moth-Holes

A great discovery has been put on the market which makes all woolen things mothproof. It is Larvex—the newest protection from moth damage ever made—for it makes the cloth itself mothproof.

Once you spray a woolen article with Larvex, you do not have to use it away. It is safe anywhere.

No moth-worm will eat it. Remember, the moth itself eats nothing. It Larvex lays eggs which hatch into worms. These moth-worms do the damage. They eat woolen material. But they will not eat anything that is sprayed with Larvex. Larvex protects the wool fibers and becomes part of the cloth.

America's leading textile manufacturers use it. You can now buy

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., May 5.—(Special Correspondence.)—One of our bosom friends is certainly the section of tricks extending in shield shape like a man's shirt bosom. Those who think we have outgrown this friendship have only to look at some of the newest sports jumbers, such as the latest styles of shorts, and a number of the more elaborate daytime models. Time and again we continue to plight our troth to this same familiar shirt bosom friend.

Another of such true and tried intimacies is represented by the surprise closing which forms such an arresting feature of today's afternoon model.

This model is particularly well suited to the girl who has good girth and is fond of trimness.

Aside from the unusual closing, this graceful model attains distinction by an apron front of several layers of the material. The outer one of these is treated to fine pin tucks.

One cannot say too much of the importance of plait in the new spring models. A number of the crepe coats rely entirely upon this form of trimming.

Plies for Loyal Mothers.

"Many of us are without mothers on this coming Mother's day, but my thoughts are going out even more to the unfortunate mothers and old ladies in the Old Folks' Home. I am well acquainted with some of the poor old ladies there, and know how much they appreciate even the slight kindness of a gift.

Would some of your readers like to contribute to their happiness for the coming Mother's day? Little things like a handkerchief, a shawl, a magazine or two, a pair of spectacles, will be sincerely appreciated. They are in need of several wheel chairs at present, and would be overjoyed by a gift of music as of a player piano and rolls, but I must not ask for too much.

Cleveland.

May 5.—Sid Terry, New York, outpointed Johnny Mostl in a 15 round bout, the contest in Old Madison Park started an upward in structure, for the veteran had fought brilliant defense offsetting the speed of the New York man.

Early through the first lightning left soon to the head. Then Dundee, 10 round battles, became antagonist of old, plunging to attack Terry.

Finished fast.

And last round Terry took the apparently lost the New York man.

13,000 persons saw the arena which has been exercised, but Joe Blum, an announcer, reported up Square Garden was up town. Workmen were to demolish the press.

Stops Snyder.

Final Eddie Shea of Chicago, the referee stepped two seconds before the eighth and final round went as a knockout, for Snyder dove to the floor weighed 121½ lbs.

nett of Cleveland, 129½ lbs, a six round victory over all of New York, 121½ lbs.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

LEVELAND, O., May 6.—[Special.]—Hollis Thurston is to do the slapping tomorrow and Red Faber will be all set for the final game here Thursday.

Johnny Mostl made his thirteenth steal of the season when he swiped third base in the third inning.

Dode Paskert, one time outfielder for the Cubs, visited with some of the Sox players this morning. He is semi-proving to be in the lead because he still should be playing in the big show.

The weather outlook was pretty punk along about noon yesterday so the Cubs and Reds again were excused from toll, whereupon the sun came out, the atmosphere warmed up and a pack of fans visited the north side park with the idea of seeing a battle but with the only satisfaction they obtained was a chance to read the "No Game Today" sign.

Given a break by the weather man this afternoon, the Killeffer and Hendricks squads will endeavor to get the league leaders to seven scattered hits. Cy Williams and Russel Wrightson each made two home runs and George Kelly and Billy Southworth each made one. Score:

CORN MOVES UP ON FREE BUYING AS WHEAT SAGS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Chargers that a corner was being attempted in May corn, as made by E. F. Rosenbaum of the Grain Marketing company, were scouted by many in the grain trade yesterday in view of the fact that May corn is selling at a discount of nearly 4¢ under July, a difference that permits elevator men to change over hedges from the May to the July at practically a carrying charge difference. The May gained 4¢ on the July for the day, however, and closed around 3¢ under the distant delivery at $1.075 vs. 1.03¢. Deferred futures were off 1¢ to 1.03¢.

Congestion, however, became more apparent in May wheat and oats, of which nothing had been said in the charges of a corner. May wheat, closing only 1¢ lower for the day at 1.0495/1.051, or 1.05¢ over the July, the latest price of $1.05. May oats closed at 1.05¢, gaining 1¢ for the day, and was only 4¢ under the July at 1.07¢, although the visible supply is probably the largest known at this season of the year. May rye rose 2¢ and closed at 1.12¢, while July was 2¢ lower.

Profit taking in wheat. Heavy selling of July wheat, attributed to profit taking by eastern traders, was largely responsible for the lower range during the day, and while good support appeared on the break, the rallies were not impressive and the finish on the deferred deliveries was easy, while there was little pressure on the May. In the aggregate the trade was not large, with little change in the general character of the news, the foreign demand being extremely slow, while the crop reports from the southwest were as mixed as ever.

Liverpool wheat closed 4¢/1d lower for the day, due to profit taking. Total holdings of wheat in the United States on May 1 as estimated by Murray were 187,000,000 bu., or 28,000,000 bu less than a year ago, and 120,000,000 bu during the last two months, compared with 120,000,000 bu during the same period last year, but the report failed to bring in much buying.

More interest in corn. Several strong local combination houses and professionally run grain buying desks of corn, the July being taken freely and prices advanced in the face of the break in wheat. The buying was based on the belief that the market was about to get out of the rut in which it had been for some time and that unless there was a run of grain after corn planting time values would work higher. Reports from Illinois indicated that farmers would not sell unless they could receive around 91¢ at country loading points. Murray's report showing $21,000,000 bu corn in the country, compared with $85,000,000 bu last year, was construed as moderately bullish.

May oats continued to act tight and sold at the smallest discount under July in some time. Murray's report suggested $51,000,000 bu in the positions, the country loading points being at least 91¢. Little interest was taken by the ray futures. Charters were made for $25,000 bu from here to Buffalo, with $5,000 bu sent to go to store. Duluth reported charters for $60,000 bu to Chicago.

Mid-Flurry in Lard. Buying of lard by houses with eastern connections found the main basis of offerings and prices advanced sharply, closing 45¢/50¢ higher. In three days they have gained 27¢/28¢/29¢. Hides were up 17¢/18¢ and bellies 48¢/50¢. In some quarters it is alleged that there is a big fight on in lard between several of the leading packers. Prices follow:
